HORDES OF FIREBUGS

Apply the Torch to Railroad Property.

THE YARDS A SEA OF FLAME

The Aggregate Loss of the Railroads Enormous—Miles of Track Ruined by the Fierce Heat—Hundreds of Switches and Signal Towers, With Their Expensive Mechanism Ruined—Valuable Locomotives Wrecked—Cars Rifled and Their Contents Carried Away Before the Torch Was Applied. Loss in the Pan Handle Yard Alone Estimated at $1,200,000.

Chicago, July 6.—Six dead and an indefinite number of wounded is the record in the strike conflicts in Chicago today. The developments of last night and today have led to the firm conviction that nothing short of an overwhelming armed force with instructions to shoot to kill can settle the trouble. Today has been one of alarm and calls for police, deputy marshals and soldiers in the southern portion of the city. Riot has been running rampant throughout the city, cars overturned, switches broken, tracks obstructed in numerous ways, cars and switch-towers burned, and an attempt was made to fire the great Armour packing plant. Incendiary blazes were so frequent that the fire department could scarcely attend to them all. The fire-alarm wires were cut, and the police turning in alarms were stoned. The trick of capturing a train, running the engine up the track and then sending it back at full speed against the train was a neat one, likely to be imitated.

The stoning of incoming trains was a common pastime, and one engineer on the Rock Island was fatally injured in this way. During a riot on a stock train at Kensington a deputy marshal killed two strikers and deputies guarding a Baltimore and Ohio passenger train met the shower of stones with a volley from revolvers, killing four men and wounding a number of others. A grave feature was added to the situation today when the meeting of representatives of all bodies of organized labor in the city favored general sympathy with the strikers and appointed a committee of three with full power to act.

A meeting of organized labor has been called for Sunday to ratify their action. Late this afternoon the Second regiment of the National Guard was ordered to the stock yards. The most significant development of the general strike situation was carrying the strike east to Cleveland with the promise that tomorrow it will reach the Atlantic coast, thus tying up the railroads from San Francisco to New York.

Chicago, July 6.—It is now known that six rioters were killed by deputy marshals today and a large number were wounded.

President Cleveland has threatened to send 20,000 National Guard soldiers to Chicago from New York and Pennsylvania. The Illinois National Guard of 8000 men is now being centered at Chicago.

The officials at the postoffice department take a cheerful view of the situation. "The backbone of the strike will be broken tomorrow despite today's developments in and about Chicago," said General Superintendent White of the railway mail service.

Chicago, July 6.—Two hundred stock cars of the Grand Trunk are now burning at the stock yards. N. M. Ritchie, a watchman on the Fort Wayne, was stoned to death by a mob.

Chicago, July 6.—Herbert Letters, a striker, was killed today by Mrs. William Lehman, whose husband took Letters' place. Letters attacked Lehman, when the latters wife shot him.

President Debs has issued a proclamation cautioning the striking employes against being parties to violation of the law, municipal, state or national during existing difficulties. He reminds them that while they have a right to quit others have a right to take their places. Debs calls upon the strikers to keep away from the railroad yards and places where there is likelihood of an outbreak so that the railroad will not have a chance to say their trains do not move because the strikers interfere.

During the day Debs sent a large number of telegrams to the various labor organizations and assemblies of the American Railway Union, urging them to stand firm for at least twenty-four hours longer. If by that time the strike situation has not improved for the better Mr. Debs announces that organized labor all over the country will be called out without any reservation whatever.

Chicago, July 6.—With flaming torch, lawless hordes of firebugs are at work at a score of points in the south half of Chicago. Fires are raging in every direction among the numerous railroad yards. Hundreds of cars and tens of thousands of dollars worth of merchandise has gone up in smoke or been carried off by the now frenzied mob. Incendiarism is rampant, alarm after alarm has followed in quick succession all day and tonight at 11 o'clock the glare reflected from the heavens shows that the disorderly pastime continues unabated. All day long fire bugs did their work.

But with the falling shades of night came the climax of the fiery festival. In the Pan Handle yards from Fifty-fifth to Sixty-third street eighty stock cars are on fire. The tracks, containing from 1000 to 2000 cars, half of them loaded, will be a total loss. No water being at hand the fire must burn itself out.

The Pan Handle station at Sixty-third street was also fired and destroyed. The Grand Trunk yards at Elston are a sea of flame. Five hundred boxcars are supposed to have been burned and all efforts that have been made to check the flames have been futile.

While directing the movement of the Eleventh battalion at Fifty-first street Fire Marshal Fitzpatrick was seized by a thoroughly frenzied mob of firebugs and thrown into a pond, from which he was rescued by the police more dead than alive. Everything at this point will probably be a total loss.

At Hyde park, near the World's Fair grounds, the ashes of forty cars are now smouldering, and word has just come in that after numerous efforts the mob has succeeded in firing the Illinois Central shops at Burnside.

At the stock yards tonight about fifty toughs, some of whom are railroad men, were skulking from point to point and set a large number of fires. Their methods were thoroughly unique. Loading several handcars with buckets of waste and oil, they would glide around among cars in the darkness, lighting wads of stuff, which would be thrown into the open doors of the cars as they passed by them. Fires sprung up on every hand, and no organized effort on the part of the police seemed to be under way to intercept them.

This is the banner district of the city, if not of the entire country, for all-around toughs, and it is as much as a man's life is worth to interfere with them. Troops are hurrying south. Company after company in heavy marching order are moving to the turbulent district from the center of the city. The aggregate losses of the railroads will be enormous. Miles of their track have been ruined by the fierce heat and hundreds of switches and signal-towers, with their expensive mechanism, are utterly ruined. Thousands of cars and untold quantities of merchandise of every imaginable description have fed the flames and gorged the larders of the thieves. Valuable locomotives have been wrecked and disabled. There are miles of tangled wires, and prostrate poles litter the ground.

The telephone, telegraphic, electric light and fire alarm wires are now the special object of attack. The plugging of fire alarm boxes is constituting a new and doubly dangerous element in the tremendous wave of incendiarism. Preventing as it does notice being received of the starting of fires until, with the poor water supply in these outlying districts, the fire has attained such headway that it cannot be stopped except through the lack of further material on which to feed. The maddened mob, now worked up to the highest pitch of of fury, are paralleling the scenes of the commune, and at this hour it appears as though nothing short of the miraculous can prevent an armed demonstration against them and the sacrifice of many lives.

At midnight all cars in the yards have been destroyed. The mob showed method in its incendiarism and hundreds of cars were rifled and their contents carried away before the torch was applied. The loss in the Pan Handle yard alone is estimated at $1,200,000.

Later—The fire in the Illinois Central property at Burnside was subdued, but with slight loss.

At 2.15 a.m. (Saturday) about forty-eight freight cars are burning in the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy yards. Firemen are at work and it is not thought the flames will spread any further.

Chicago, July 6.—An exhaustive canvass of industrial concerns in the city reveals an appalling state of affairs, and warrants the statement that tomorrow 75 per cent of them will stop their machinery and keep it so until the present embargo on traffic is raised. The effect will be to throw into idleness upwards of 100,000 workers.

Chicago, July 6.—Much apprehension is felt this evening concerning the Pullman shops. The feeling among the strikers is intense. This evening a committee of strikers made a tour of the works and ordered the watchmen to leave the place or suffer the consequences. Some of them did so, but later, being reassured by the company and the arrival of the State militia, they returned to their posts. The intention of the strikers is not known. Incendiary work or explosives is feared.

3 a.m.—The fire in the C. B. and Q. yards is under control and the crowd is dispersing. Reports from other parts of the city are to the effect that all is quiet. No further trouble is anticipated before the morning.

AT LOS ANGELES.

A Preacher Arrested for Making Incendiary Speeches.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 6.—A train arrived here on the Santa Fe railroad from Barstow this morning, bearing a deputy United States marshal and sixteen prisoners. They are American Railway Union men who were arrested at Barstow for alleged violations of Judge Ross' non-interference injunction. The Santa Fe road also dispatched trains for San Bernardino and San Diego. Non-union crews manned three trains.

The Southern Pacific Company was not so successful. The train sent to Santa Ana yesterday was abandoned there. Conductor Willetts refused to bring it back to Los Angeles. The Southern Pacific train for San Francisco could not be got out of the yard, though many passengers went into the coaches this morning. The first engineer who had been secured weakened. He said he feared he would be injured.

The train had been made up with the mail car next to the locomotive and another in the rear of Pullman coaches. Finally the non-union crew that had been secured refused to go out unless an escort of United States troops accompanied them. Colonel Shafter refused to detail a guard of soldiers unless authorized to do so from Washington. The Washington authorities were communicated with.

At 4.45 o'clock this afternoon Rev. F. N. Ravlin was arrested by a deputy United States marshal on a charge of having made an incendiary and fiery speech tending to excite the strikers to riot and rebellion, and calling on them to disobey the constitution and laws of the United States. He was arrested at his residence, and is now in jail. His bond was placed at $7000.

THE STOCKTON SOLDIERS.

Not True That They Were Sent Home in Disgrace.

Pasadena, July 6.—Governor Markham today received a dispatch from Adjutant-General C. C. Allen at Sacramento denying the truth of the report that the Stockton company had been sent home in disgrace on account of the fiasco in the depot. General Allen said it was true one Sacramento company had been deprived of its uniforms, but the Stockton company was not disgraced.

Chairman Myers Dead.

Oakland, July 6.—Col. F. H. Myers, chairman of the Republican state central committee, died this morning of stoppage of the bowels.

THE STRIKERS RULE

Everything Their Own Way in California.

A MESSAGE RECEIVED FROM DEBS

Federal Troops at All Points Around the Bay Under Marching Orders.

San Francisco, July 6.—Tonight the Southern Pacific company seems to be no nearer regaining the management of its railways in California. The striking American Railway Union men still control the situation. Several newspapers today published reports that the company had weakened, and that the Pullman company coaches would be withdrawn from all lines within the State and freight and mail trains started if the strikers would agree not to molest such trains. This evening A. N. Towne, general manager of the company, stated that such reports were unfounded, and that the company positively would not recede from its position. In other words, the company will run Pullmans or no trains at all.

The present outlook indicates no trains. One passenger train left Portland, Or., for San Francisco this morning, but it is not believed it can reach this point without delay. An occasional train is also running out of this city on the coast division. A force of 100 policemen keeps the strikers out of the railroad yards here, and trains are made up on that line without much hindrance. Outside of San Francisco county the situation is different.

The San Luis Obispo train was stalled this morning by strikers just across the county line, where the authority of the city police ends. Traffic on the coast division has also been blocked at San Jose by crowds gathering on the track and refusing to move, Company D, Fifth regiment, state militia, was ordered out this afternoon and left for San Jose to disperse these crowds.

The Oakland blockade is still complete, not even the suburban and ferry trains running. At Sacramento, where the situation is most serious, not a wheel is turning. There has been no trouble there today however, as no further effort has been made by the United States marshal or state troops to assist the railroad company in running trains. The strikers there are confident. They not only insist that Pullmans must be withdrawn by the Southern Pacific, but today their leaders went further and declared that the men would not return to work until their wages were restored to the scale of 1893.

A committee of strikers went among the business men of Sacramento this morning and collected over $2000 for the maintenance of the families of the poorer strikers. A committee of city trustees and business men of Sacramento waited upon the leaders of the strike today to propose arbitration. The men absolutely refused to consider this proposition, declaring that the Pullmans must be withdrawn and wages restored.

Governor Markham, who is in Southern California, is desirous of returning to Sacramento. Today his private secretary waited upon Henry Knox, leader of the strikers, and Knox wired the Governor at Los Angeles that he would be allowed to come through on a special train provided a union crew was employed.

In reply to the strikers' message that they would run a special train for him with union men, Governor Markham answered: "I would be very glad to go to Sacramento provided I can go there without placing myself under official obligation to any person, class or faction. When I reach there I must be left entirely free to act as my intelligence and best judgment dictates.

West Oakland, July 6.—The following dispatch from E. V. Debs was received this evening by T. J. Roberts, president of the Oakland lodge, American Railway Union:

"Chicago, July 6.—We have the assurance that within forty-eight hours every labor organization in the country will come to the rescue. The fight is on, and our men are acquitting themselves like heroes. Every true man must quit and remain out until the fight is won. There can be no half-way ground. The men must be for or against us. Our cause is gaining ground daily, and our success is only a matter of a few days. Labor must win now or never. Our victory will be positive and complete."

San Francisco, July 6.—Federal troops at all points around the bay are under marching orders, but no direction has been received by General Ruger to send United States soldiers to Sacramento. Among the troops the impression prevails that orders to proceed to the capitol city are hourly due.

AT SACRAMENTO.

Baldwin Tells Why the Guards Did Not Fire.

Sacramento, July 6.—United States Marshal Baldwin has made a statement in defense of his action at the depot Wednesday. At first, he says, General Dimond was elected to continue in command, but finally delivered the command to Baldwin. Before doing so Baldwin said Dimond had given orders to fire, but Sheehan questioned Dimond's authority. He contended that such an order should be issued by the Marshal. Directions were then given to clear the yards, but Dimond told Baldwin this could not be accomplished without firing. Baldwin said he told the General to fire if necessary, after he had warned the people of his intention, and that the militia officers said their men were neither in physical trim for nor in sympathy with the offensive operations, but could be relied on for defensive measures. The militiamen were in full sympathy with the strikers.

Sacramento, July 6.—There is great excitement at the news of the deadly conflict in Chicago. A majority of the strikers are ugly, and threaten to exterminate the troops if the latter dislodge the strikers, the latter being in possession of 800 Winchesters, and are anticipating trouble if the First United States infantry is brought back from Los Angeles to Sacramento. The strikers say they are not afraid of some blood.

The railroad officials refuse to permit the strikers to bring Governor Markham's special from Pasadena

AT WASHINGTON.

The Attorney General Tells What Can Be Done if Necessary.

Washington, July 6.—Attorney General Olney said today that if it was found necessary a force could be massed in Chicago sufficient to stop the strike at a single blow. There will be no temporizing with the strikers. The railroads must be permitted to conduct their business unmolested if the entire army has to be brought to bear. United States troops from the east will be sent to Chicago. If they are not sufficient the militia from New York and Pennsylvania will be sent. Seventy thousand men, the pick of the militia of the United States, can be thrown into Chicago at short notice. Martial law will not be declared in Illinois until the President thinks it necessary.

Washington, July 6.—At the cabinet meeting today the entire situation was carefully gone over. The situation on the Pacific coast is still a matter of grave concern to the executive. Applications have come for relief from the complete blockade at Sacramento, but the way is not clear to help. The militia seems to have proved almost worthless, sustained by sympathy for the lawless element that stops them from performing their duty. The only available troops are at the Presidio, San Francisco, and the war department hesitates to order them away and leave the valuable government property at San Francisco exposed to attack. It is hoped the situation at Los Angeles will ameliorate in a day or two, and that the troops there can be released and sent to Sacramento.

WAR'S NEW TERRORS.

Devices For Slaughter That Are Almost Beyond Imagination's Grasp.

Indications are that when two European armies eventually meet on the field, if the war talk ever resolves itself into actual conflict, a good many men will faint away in terror of their adversaries. The "inventions" which have been brought out lately in France, Germany and Austria, and which have been purchased by the governments of those countries, are innumerable, and every one of them is designed to slaughter human life at a rate that appals the imagination. The most intense and theatric secrecy is maintained concerning all these inventions, and only a few general facts regarding them have been made public. The German army, it is understood, is armed with rifles which will send a bullet through four men standing one behind the other at a distance of 2½ miles from the rifle. Austria has a machine gun which shoots several thousand bullets a minute, which is operated by steam and controlled by a single gentleman with a waxed mustache and a monocle in his left eye, who lightly turns a crank. At least this is the condition of things according to the latest illustrated journals at hand. The man with the eyeglass can turn the crank fast enough to sweep 30,000 or 40,000 men into eternity during the luncheon hour.

Incidentally a German tailor has invented a coat that makes the wearer absolutely indifferent to bullets at any range, and the Italians have machines for throwing very small and almost invisible torpedoes a distance of nearly a quarter of a mile. The torpedoes describe a parabola in the air, drop into the camp of the enemy and explode with force enough to kill 100 or more soldiers if they happen to be in the vicinity. Great numbers of them can be thrown at a time, and a pleasing and cheerful feature of it is that there are no disagreeable odors nor any smoke whatever when the explosion occurs.

M. Turpin of France is the latest hero in this direction. He has invented something which is so altogether awful that the taxpayers have requested the government to give M. Turpin a great amount of money, so that he will not turn his machine over to the Germans. This machine is operated by electricity, and, according to its inventor, it is of so terrible a nature that it will do away with all fortifications throughout the civilized world. This is merely a detail of the execution which this machine is expected to accomplish. Forts will be of no use, because M. Turpin's machines would rend them all into atoms, and at a distance of several miles a man can mow down the enemy at the rate of 20,000 at an engagement. The facts are inspiring, but there is a lack of detail about them which is in accordance with much of the literature which has lately been put forth by the various Munchausens among the war-officers of Europe. The Turpin invention so far outstrips everything else, according to the critics of modern warfare, that it will insure universal peace. One machine alone is enough to devastate a country. —New York Sun.

Virginia raises 5,000,000 bushels of peanuts and $4,000,000 worth of fruit and vegetables. The iron product is 200,000 tons, and over $2,000,000 of gold has been sent to the United States mint. This state has the largest lead mines in the south and the greatest manganese mines in the world.

Old Hurd church was built near Harrodsburg, Ky., in 1797, and it is said that weekly meetings have been held there ever since without a single exception. Harrodsburg is said to be the oldest town in that state.

A FATAL MISTAKE.

If the ultimatum issued by Chairman Knox of the committee of strikers to the Business Men's Protective Association of Sacramento stands as the final decision on the question at issue, a blunder has been made which will cost the strikers that which is of all things essential to their ultimate success—the sympathy and support of the public. As a consistent and steadfast advocate of the rights and interests of the masses of the people, THE REPUBLICAN here records the opinion that if the position taken by Chairman Knox is maintained that the end of this industrial revolution will be one of disaster to organized labor.

In that ultimatum the strikers have not only thrown away their chief advantage, but have deliberately transferred it to the Southern Pacific Railroad Company. Whether fully justified in so doing or not, nine-tenths of the people of this state have held the railroad company responsible for the enormous losses and hardships which this tie-up has inflicted upon them. The people have accepted the claims of the strikers as true that they were willing to handle all trains not carrying Pullman coaches, and have believed that the railroad company abandoned its business of carrying freights and mails for the sole purpose of being better able to make their fight against the Pullman boycott.

In the face of this, as we consider it, all-important advantage, we are now told by Chairman Knox of Sacramento that the strikers propose to take the odium of all this ruthless destruction of property and public rights from the shoulders of the corporation and transfer it to their own.

If THE REPUBLICAN understands the question at all this is the worst blunder that could possibly have been made. The defiance of officers of the law and the seizure of property are not acts which ordinarily command public approval, but owing to the feeling against railroad corporations they are pretty generally condoned; but when it comes to deliberately assuming the responsibility for all the destruction which is daily going on, organized labor has taken upon itself a load which will and should crush it to the earth if it insists upon carrying it. The railroad company, quick to see the advantage of the situation, is promptly out in a declaration declaring its willingness to run all trains which they are permitted to excepting those which usually carry the Pullman coaches. Hence it follows that the farmers and fruit growers can no longer lay the responsibility for their rotting fruit upon their "ancient enemy," but must lay it upon those who boldly announce that for the sake of the interests involved in their contest they will shut down the wheels of commerce and bring privation and ruin upon tens of thousands of their fellow citizens.

Not satisfied, apparently, with putting organized labor in the place of the corporation as the party responsible for the ruin witnessed upon every hand, Chairman Knox proceeds to announce terms upon which the differences can be settled, which are not only impossible, but which are calculated to arouse the hot indignation of every American citizen who is not prepared to submit to despotism of the rawest kind. It matters not that this ultimatum is aimed at a corporation which has forfeited all claim to public sympathy. Despotism is obnoxious, and must be resisted from whatever source it may come. The Pullman strikers have no more right to dictate to the railroad company what name they shall have upon their cars, or what company they shall do business with after this controversy is ended, than the railroad company has to tell them that they shall not belong to a certain order, or if they do that the name of the order must be changed. Such demand coming from any source is so preposterous that it seems incredible that sane men who have enjoyed the privileges of citizenship in a free country should issue such a mandate. Finding themselves suddenly in the possession of a power which is claimed to be greater than that of the government itself, appears to have completely turned their heads.

The only hope of organized labor in this contest now lies, in the opinion of this paper, in an immediate reversal of the policy announced from Sacramento. Public sympathy is the foundation upon which it rests, and public sympathy will be withdrawn from it if it insists upon refusing that relief to which the great mass of the people are entitled. If the railroad companies are willing to move the freight trains the strikers must move them or permit them to be moved, or the public vengeance so ready and willing to be visited upon the corporation will fall upon organized labor.

The situation is critical, and labor is in need of its wisest counsel.

THE CRISIS AT HAND.

The pent-up fury of the mob has broken loose in Chicago, and the city of enterprise and anarchists is the theater of such lawlessness and destruction as has seldom been seen on American soil except in time of actual war.

It was quite evident from the beginning of this boycott that unless a settlement was reached between the parties actually concerned that open lawlessness and bloodshed would inevitably follow. It is the natural and practically the unavoidable result of an undertaking to force the quarrel of one corporation and its workmen upon the people of the entire country. Such an undertaking in the very nature of things meets with desperate opposition, and experience has long since proven that the end is defiance of the law and a test of brute strength.

There is every probability that the present trouble will be the most serious one of its kind ever known in this country. The mob at Chicago has not yet whetted its appetite for a carnival of destruction, and similar outbreaks can be certainly expected in other portions of the country.

Without discussing the causes which have led up to the present condition of affairs, it is perfectly plain at this time what the necessities of the situation are. The government must immediately demonstrate its capacity for self preservation. Law and order must be established with all possible speed, and the widespread destruction of property consequent upon the stoppage of transportation must come to an end. All other issues have for the time being become secondary to the preservation of the lives, the property and the peace of the people.

If the present administration possesses a fractional part of the intelligence and force which has characterized many of its predecessors, it will not be very long in bringing order out of the existing condition.

The government may not be all that we desire in a government, and the national guard may be decidedly weak in the knees, but there is still plenty of loyalty in the country to wipe out the sort of rebellion which opened in Chicago last night in the glare of the incendiaries' torch. After that has been done, the honest, law-abiding majority will take the case of the corporations in hand, and give them the attention of which they stand in such pressing need.

AN UNHAPPY SITUATION.

The statement of Democracy made by Mr. Cleveland is a sufficient guide, and it will be a hollow mockery to indorse him and then declare for ideas at antagonism with his. If sound counsels prevail, November will see the end of California Republicanism.—Colonel Irish in The Wave.

In other words, the Democracy is between the devil and the deep blue sea—the devil of Clevelandism and the deep sea of public opinion. If they accept the former the breakers of public opinion will roll over the party with resistless might, and, according to Colonel Irish, if they renounce Grover and his works and voice the sentiment of the party and the people they are undone, and nothing will be left to mark the place where they were at but bleaching political bones and an unhappy memory.

The Colonel says truly that it will be a hollow mockery to indorse Cleveland and declare in favor of those ideas which he has antagonized—notably the restoration of silver coinage. Colonel Irish is very confident that all the party has to do to insure success is to swallow the administration and look happy, but there are many equally as good Democrats, including a majority of those whose bellies are not full of administration pie, who do not think as the Colonel does. The Stockton Mail voices the latter sentiment when it says:

> Things look very well now for the Democrats, but how will they look after the 24th of August, allowing four days for the work of the convention? This is something that the cool-headed partisans should be thinking about. The administration wing won a victory by having San Francisco selected as the place for holding the convention, and, cheered by that success, we find the program being already outlined. Thus John P. Irish in the Wave of last week came boldly out for the indorsement of Cleveland and the single gold standard. This will be the fight of the whole brigade, but if they should win and the Democracy of California should go before the people with such a declaration of principles, the issue in November would lie between the Populists and the Republicans. The Democrats would literally not be in it. It is all well enough to count on victory now by reason of the mistakes of the Republicans, but just wait and see if the Democrats do not make fully as bad a mess of it. Mr. Irish's pronunciamento in favor of the President who gave him an office and the money that his salary is paid in should count for nothing, yet we see it quoted approvingly in some of the less influential papers. The mass of the people are not at present in a mood to put up with any formal flattery of the big man in Washington, and so far as the Democrats are concerned, they are, as nearly as can be judged from the current expressions of opinion, in favor of free silver coinage. Of what advantage would it be, except to the Republicans, to indorse the administration? The indorsement would carry with it approval of the single gold standard which nine-tenths of the farmers of the state know is responsible for the prevailing lowprices of farm products and of everything else except gold mines. It might make the federal office holders seem influential in the eyes of the President, but it is very doubtful if he would care a fig for the California resolutions one way or the other. He is not going to run again, and his chief competitor for the last nomination has given the country his opinion that Mr. Cleveland is the last Democratic President.

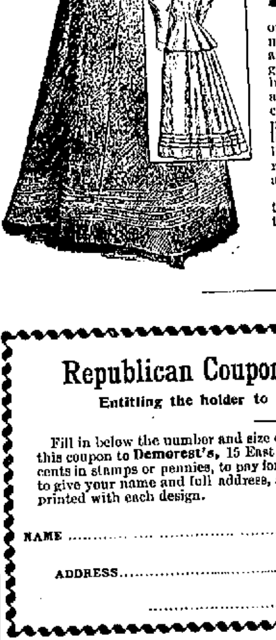
SERVICEABLE AND STYLISH.

586—FENWICK COAT. Sizes, 34, 36, 38 and 40 Inches Bust Measure.



Although very plain in effect as illustrated, this model is most practical for traveling, seaside and general wear. It is formed by the combination of the "Fenwick" coat and the "Gilbert" skirt, and embodies some of the most stylish features of the present day—the full gored skirt, and the newest style of blazer, which is tight fitting in the back and rounding away in front, disclosing a shirt waist. A waistcoat, basque or blouse waist can be substituted for the shirt waist. Covert cloth, homespun, tweed and serges are the popular materials for general wear, but for summer use, costumes of linen or cotton duck or canvass are exceedingly stylish and cool. Rows of stitching are used to finish the sleeves, collar and edges of the coat.

A special illustration and full directions about the pattern will be found on the envelope in which it is enclosed.

508—Gilbert Skirt. Sizes, medium and Large.

For any dress goods, light, medium or heavy in weight, this is an excellent model; graceful, of becoming fullness, and of equal length all around. It has gored fronts and side breadths, and a bias seam down the middle of the back, and the shape at the top makes it especially easy to fit. Line throughout, and put an interlining of not too stiff crinoline to any desired depth, between the lining and the outside. Finished with rows of stitching, it combines well with any of the tailor-made basques or coats.

A special illustration and full directions about the pattern will be found on the envelope in which it is enclosed.

THE FREE LIBRARY.

Report of the Librarian for the Month of June.

The librarian of the Fresno Public library reports that during the month of June 1379 books were issued and the membership was increased by 93 names. The sum of $3.65 was collected in fines and $1.50 from out of town subscribers; $6.20 was paid for freight, and $1.65 for incidentals; 523 new books were received and about 400 more are expected soon. Two large cases have been put in to make room for them.

There is still complaint concerning the hours. it being claimed they are not convenient. The short time the library is open in the evening gives business men very little opportunity to enjoy its advantages. The library now contains nearly 3000 volumes.

Mass Meeting of Sympathy.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN: — Lest there should be some misapprehension regarding the mass meeting of sympathy for labor to be held on K and Mariposa streets this evening, we beg to say, first, the meeting is called by some of the best citizens of Fresno; and second, it is to be strictly non-partisan. It is not called to further the interests of any political party or any person seeking office, but purely for the purpose of giving expression in a cool, dispassionate and dignified manner, to the sympathy everyone must feel for the cause of organized labor in its present struggle with organized capital.

QUIET PRIMARIES.

The Democrats Poll a Light Vote.

THE RESULT IN THIS CITY

Delegates Elected to the County Convention—Anti-Machine Men Defeated.

The Democratic primaries were conducted so quietly yesterday that not even the Expositor knew anything of the kind was going on in Fresno. The scenes of former years were entirely absent, and what little excitement there was was caused by one or two men in the Fifth ward who had imbibed too freely at some candidate's expense.

In spite of the apparent dullness considerable effective work was done in some of the precincts, but in a very quiet way. The "workers" watched the polls closely, and succeeded in a number of instances in electing delegates who cannot be considered fair representatives of the best element in the party. Some of the most prominent candidates in the city, in fact, were thrown over for others who are known to have been in with the bosses in the palmy days.

In the first precinct, for instance, such sterling Democrats and prominent citizens as W. H. McKenzie, J. R. White and Jacob Clark were defeated. In the third G. G. Goucher and T. A. Bell are among the defeated. It is very likely, however, that the Senator will not permit himself to be shelved so easily, and he will probably get a proxy. The delegation is said not to be entirely satisfactory to the solid element in the precinct, though they rejoice at Goucher's and Bell's defeat.

The vote in the fourth and fifth precincts was very light and the result is not deliriously rejoiced at. The sixth precinct polled the heaviest vote and a good deal of interest was displayed there. William Fahey was defeated, but some good Democrats were "left," too, so there is mourning on both sides. The delegation selected in the seventh has a suggestion of the machine about it, as has that selected in the eighth. The result in the ninth and tenth will delight the unterrified in the bloody fifth, if it doesn't the good Democrats in the ward.

In a number of cases voters showed reluctance to take the pledge. They did not wish to bind themselves to vote for any and every candidate the convention might select, and could they have known beforehand what men would be chosen they would have been still more unwilling This was notably the case in precinct 3, where such old Democrats as Dr. T. R. Meux and W. M. Wyatt demurred to taking the pledge.

The vote was very light for a Democratic primary, and shows better than anything else the condition of the party. It is rumored that the showing in the country is still worse than in Fresno. No doubt many of the Democrats who stayed at home did so because they were averse to taking the pledge, being willing only to vote for good men. They did not want to take the chance of committing themselves to support a bad ticket.

In the ninth precinct Charles Tubbs complained of having been counted out. He said last night he would demand a recount, as he had been treated unfairly. Judging from the make-up of the city delegations machine methods will prevail in the convention, unless, of course, the country delegates prevent it by uniting. The passing over of so many respectable and prominent Democrats in the city will impress very unfavorably the large class to which they belong.

The county convention will meet on the 10th inst. in Kutner hall, and John McMullin is slated for chairman. Country Democrats talk of J. D. Collins, the old Democratic warhorse, for that responsible place.

The results of yesterday's primaries, so far as THE REPUBLICAN has been able to obtain them, are as follows:

First ward, precinct 1—J. M. Ball, George L. Hood, George Rupert, Jesse Irvine. Total vote, 20.

Precinct 2—Gillum Baley, W. T. Maupin, S. J. Ashman, James Gallagher, E. F. Bernhard, W. D. Johnson. Total vote, 42.

Second ward, precinct 3—James Armstrong, George F. Bickel, I. H. Patterson, Sol Goodman, T. S. Price, John McMullin. Total vote, 73.

Precinct 4—W. D. Hill, O. V. Combs, J. W. McDonald.

Third ward, precinct 7.—N. Berborn, W. N. Curtis, Ed Schwarz, J. H. Tynan, M. E. Sanford, T. L. Reel, J. Dealy. Total vote, 69.

Precinct 8.—E. D. Edwards, O. J. Meade, L. Barks and W. R. Thomas. Total vote, 43.

Fourth ward, precinct 5.—Sam Zetz, Dr. George Edwards. Total vote, 10.

Precinct 6. — Thomas Bates, Seth Owens, John Noon, Louis Scholler, R. Fallington, J. Townsend, I. Patrick, A. Jacobs, Dan Brown. Total vote, 76.

Fifth ward, precinct 9.—Bart Alford, A. Hunault, L. Tipton, J. L. Flores, Al Merritt, A. L. Dias. Total vote, 59.

Total vote in the city of Fresno, 445.

Caught in a Combined Harvester.

Harry Hunt, a stepson of W. S. Sanders, had his leg severely crushed while at work on a combined harvester near Hanford yesterday. He was cleaning off the weeds that had accumulated on the feed board, when he slipped from his foothold and fell into the cylinder. His left leg and foot were badly mangled, and necessitated an amputation of a part of the foot. Drs. Deardorff and Long were called to attend the injured boy.

THE INJUSTICE OF IT.

The Many Compelled to Suffer for the Few.

From the Visalia Delta.

We are told that we should bear with inconvenience and loss cheerfully when the same will benefit a worthy laborer, and we should; but there is a limit even to this rule. The question will admit of close scrutiny. Who are the striking employes of Pullman? John Smith is one; he is a wiper and cleaner and receives $1.50 per day wages. John Jones is a painter and is paid $2 50 a day. John Brown is a master mechanic and is paid $5 per day. A reduction of 10 per cent in their wages would leave Smith $1.35 per day and result in an annual loss, if he worked 300 days in the year, of $45. Jones would receive $2.25 a day and would lose $75 a year. Brown would receive $4.50 a day and lose $150 yearly. The annual loss to the 2,000 employes at the same liberal rate would amount to $180,000.

Another John Smith is a sturdy young farmer in the neighborhood of Visalia, who has labored faithfully to bring a young orchard to the bearing age He was rejoiced a few days ago to see his first car load of fruit start on its long journey to an Eastern market, and calculated on a net profit therefrom of $1200. When happiest in contemplation of receiving the first reward of his labor he received information of the great strike and the further intelligence that his car load of fruit was in a tied-up train. The thought of his loss, of his uncompensated toil, of the heavy balance that would accumulate on the wrong side of the ledger, drove him back to his little orchard in despair.

But perhaps Mr. Smith will be delighted when he learns that his $1200 worth of fruit, decaying amidst the sagebrush deserts of Nevada, will help his namesake in Pullman to save 15 cents a day and $45 a year.

John Jones, a thrifty Visalia farmer, was a happy man when he sent by mail to San Francisco a check for the amount of the mortgage on his well improved ranch, held by a Shylock who had often dwelt with longing eyes upon it. But the strike detained his letter and foreclosure proceedings have already been instituted. The local Mr. Jones loses his all, but he should not complain if Jones of Pullman saves his 25 cents a day.

John Brown of Visalia was summoned by telegraph to the bedside of his dying mother in distant Michigan. The strike prevents his return to the old homestead, and another telegram informs him that his poor old mother was laid beneath the sod without having her last wish, to see her absent boy, fulfilled. And no reward that may come to Brown of Pullman will be an offset to his feelings.

Multiply these instances by a thousand—multiply them by ten thousand, and the sum will not equal the loss to the unoffending by this disastrous strike.

SUPPLIES BY WATER

A BOAT FROM STOCKTON TO FIREBAUGHS.

An Object Lesson That Will Popularize the Canal Project.

The cutting off of communications between Fresno and San Francisco, the source whence our merchants receive their supplies, has caused the latter and their customers great inconvenience. Yesterday Wick B. Parsons, secretary of the Business Men's association, was struck by the excellent idea of benefiting both merchants and public and at the same time bring to the attention of the people the importance of the navigable canal project.

He thought this could not be done in a more effective manner than by having a boat come down the San Joaquin as far as the river is now navigable, bringing on it what supplies were needed and to have these supplies brought the rest of the way by team. Mr. Parsons went to a number of grocery stores, laid his plan before the proprietors and asked them if they would make shipments. All of them stated they would be too glad to do so.

He next went to Dorsey & Parker, who represent the Crown mills here, and who need flour very badly. They were so pleased with the idea that they co-operated with Mr. Parsons, and a telegram was sent to H. J. Corcoran of the California Navigation and Improvement company at Stockton, asking him how far down the river he could send a boat, and what his rates would be for freight.

Manager Corcoran answered he could send a boat at least as far as Dickson bridge, twenty-five miles north of Firebaugh, and that the boat would go to Firebaugh if the water was not too low. The rates he gave were as follows: First class, 30 cents per 100 pounds; second, 26 cents; third, 24 cents; fourth, 21 cents; fifth, 16 cents.

Mr. Parsons then asked what time the boat could start, and received the following reply:

"We will send a boat from here Sunday night to go as far toward Firebaugh as possible. Goods must be sent from San Francisco by our line Saturday. The rates will depend on the point reached, but are very reasonable. No advance on our open tariff will be charged. H. J. CORCORAN."

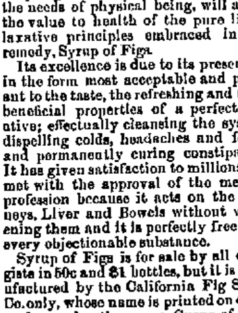
Upon this Mr. Parsons visited a number of prominent merchants to see what amount of freight would be given the company, and was promised about 150 tons. There appeared to be a great desire to patronize the line. In answer to a question what the rate on watermelons would be from the highest point on the river to Stockton, Mr. Corcoran answered "20 cents in crates from Dover, which is the highest point to which we think a boat can go."

Dover is about fifty miles from Fresno, and the supplies would have to be brought from that point by team. The transportation by team will probably be a little dear, though the entire cost, Mr. Parsons believes, will not exceed very much the railroad charges. With so many teams idle, the charges should not be heavy from Dover to Fresno. To satisfy himself how far up the river boats could come Mr. Parsons telegraphed to Isaac Myer at Firebaugh. Mr. Myer answered that boats could come to within twenty-five miles of Firebaugh.

Mr. Parsons' action in the matter has been largely for the purpose of calling attention to the navigable canal project, hoping to show in what an entirely different position Fresno would be were it connected with Stockton by water, and to induce the people to take up the project with vigor and carry it through.

THE REPUBLICAN received a special telegram last night from Stockton saying that the California Navigation and Improvement Company would send the steamer Clara Crow to Dover Sunday evening. There is already a good supply of freight on hand for the vessel

Mr. Parsons asks that all persons having teams and wanting to engage in the transportation business, meet him at Nourse's grocery store on Mariposa street, between 9 and 12 o'clock today, so that some arrangement can be made as to the rates.



KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

WORDS OF PRAISE.

I have been wearing glasses from boyhood, have consulted the best oculists in New York, New Orleans and other cities, and never before have I derived such comfort as I experienced through the use of glasses fitted for me by Drs. DeZeng and Shelmerdine. It is the first time in my life that the defect in my vision appears to have been so perfectly and satisfactorily corrected.

JOHN REICHMAN,
Cashier Farmers' Bank.

I am wearing glasses fitted for both far and near sight by Drs. De Zeng and Shelmerdine, and they are the best I ever had. THOMAS E. HUGHES.

My glasses fitted by Drs. De Zeng and Shelmerdine are very clear, perfect and entirely satisfactory. J. W. RESSE.

Until glasses were fitted to my eyes by Drs. De Zeng and Shelmerdine, I did not realize how greatly my sight could be improved. I now see as clearly as I did when a boy. C. G. SAYLE.

Drs. DeZeng and Shelmerdine are located with Drs. Deardorff & Davidson where they will remain until July 15th.

FORGED TO ORDER.

Cashier Reichman's Skill With the Pen.

SIGNATURES FORGED IN COURT

The Cashier Says the Draft and the Wootton Letters Are Not Genuine.

The opening of the court at the Sanders' forgery trial was delayed fifteen minutes by the late arrival of a juror. Judge Webb sharply reprimanded the delinquent. The case for the prosecution was then continued.

William Yates was the first witness, and testified that he saw Sanders near the Wootton ranch on February 1st. He was in a buckboard at the time.

Judge Webb peremptorily stopped a question as to where Judge Abbott was on this occasion, and when Snow asked a second question the Judge said sternly: "I will discipline you, Mr. Snow, if you persist in that line."

Mr. Snow to the witness—"That's all."

Replying to Mr. Short, the witness said there was no one with Professor Sanders.

W. H. McKenzie was recalled, and Mr. Short showed him a check dated September 26, 1890. The witness was asked this question: "You state that one of the objections you made to the genuineness of the $1400 draft was that there were a couple of small 'o's' above the mark, and you thought that was evidence that there was a forgery—was that so?"

Witness—"It led me to believe so. The check produced appears to have been written by some other person. The whole thing was written by a steady hand. Wootton wrote nervously and rapidly. I don't believe the signature is Wootton's, but it often happens that a man signs a check which has been filled up by some one else. The figure '9' is very peculiarly made in this case."

The check, which is dated September 15, 1890, was offered in evidence by Mr. Short, who then continued the cross-examination, and produced a number of checks and drafts bearing the signature of William Wootton, dating back '90 and '91. Mr. Short sought to show that there were more differences between the handwriting in the various checks assumed to be in the genuine handwriting of Wootton than existed in the alleged forged draft. McKenzie insisted that in most of the genuine checks the body of the check or draft was in "poor" writing, the same as the signatures. He admitted that in the ordinary way his scrutiny is confined to signatures. His business is confined mainly to comparing signatures.

The witness also admitted that he was inclined, on a rough inspection of one of the signatures, to pronounce it the genuine writing of Wootton, but when he examined it closely he changed his mind.

John Reichman, cashier of the Farmers' Bank of Fresno, was the next witness, and testified that he had been so employed seven years, and is accustomed to examine signatures to ascertain their genuineness. He had been frequently called to testify in cases of this kind.

The witness said he is familiar with the handwriting and signature of William Wootton. He was shown the $1400 draft on the Kutner-Goldstein Company, for comparison with a number of other checks and drafts by Wootton. The cashier held the bundle in his hand, turned the checks over again and again coolly and deliberately, then looked once more at the draft. He said, "I believe it is a forgery!"

Judge Webb turned to the witness and put the question in another way, subject to the objection of Mr. Short: "From your experience in examining handwriting and from an examination of checks signed by William Wootton, do you say that signature to the draft is or is not in the handwriting of Wootton?"

"Witness: "I say that it is not the genuine handwriting of William Wootton."

At the request of Mr. Snow the witness took a piece of chalk and gave a blackboard demonstration of the discrepancies on which he based his opinion.

He pointed out that in the genuine signatures of Wootton a considerable distance exists between the "W" and the "i," and the "W" and the "oo;" that in the genuine Wootton signatures there is no connection between the "oo" and the "t," such as exists on the alleged forged draft; Wootton's cross to the "tt" commenced on the down stroke of the first "t;" in the draft it commences before the stroke. Wootton invariably made his "4", without taking off his pen, and without crossing the horizontal line. The "K" in Kutner, Goldstein & Co. was not made as Wootton made his "K." There is a little cross stroke in Wootton's capital "H," which does not appear in the draft. In the word "hundred" the central "d" and the final "d" are made alike; Wootton made the final "d" different. Usually Wootton paid very little attention to lines, sometimes going above, sometimes below the line, while on the draft every letter is on the line.

The witness repeated that he was perfectly satisfied the draft is a forgery. Mr. Short objected.

Mr. Reichman was now shown a number of the Wootton letters already offered in evidence in the trail. The letter purporting to be to W. A. Sanders at Barstow and signed Wm. Wootton he pronounced not to have been written by Wootton. He asked more time to examine one of the envelopes before expressing a positive opinion on its genuineness. He pronounced distinctly against the genuineness of another "Wootton" letter, written after the rancher's disappearance and marked "Peoples' Exhibit No. 7," and against the possibility of any of the letters produced and written after February 1st being in Wootton's handwriting.

He was then shown an acknowledgment said to have been prepared by Sanders and said he did not believe the Wootton signature on it to be genuine.

Being asked to give his reasons, Mr. Reichman said: "This is the best signature I have seen, and I believe it has been traced on the genuine signature. I believe it to be a tracing. I have no other reason than this I examined this signature some months ago and I believe that I could then see little traces of pencil. If the letters were made in that way, first traced with pencil and then written over with ink, the ink could be removed and the pencil marks would remain. It would be a difficult matter to detect it by the eye because there would be so little of the pencil dust that the ink would be apt to absorb it

Replying to Mr. Short, the witness said that if the pencil marks were made over the ink the letters would have a glossy appearance.

Mr. Snow proposed to have a test made before the jury, but Mr. Short objected, on the ground that Mr. Reichman is not a chemist. The court overruled this objection, but denied the motion on the ground that a document in evidence might be disfigured.

In cross-examination the witness stated that he had studied penmanship at a business college in New Orleans. He modestly admitted that he had the reputation of being a pretty good hand at imitating signatures.

At Mr. Short's request the witness took the clerk's seat and "forged" an order from William Wootton in the presence of the court.

After recess Cashier Reichman returned to court ten minutes late, and Judge Webb called him to account. The cashier was blowing hard, and looked like Cleveland on a fishing trip. He explained that he was not exactly built for a sprinter, but had made the best time he could. The Judge smiled, for once, and Reichman got a minute more to recover his breath.

He produced another set of forgeries of Wootton's signature, which he had executed at the bank during recess. The jury smiled significantly when the documents were handed them for inspection.

Replying to Mr. Short, Reichman said in a semi-apologetic way that the signatures were the best he could do in the time at his command. He could not say if the order he had forged would deceive others. It certainly would not deceive him. It is a great deal easier to forge a man's signature than to fabricate a letter or instrument purporting to be in the same man's handwriting. In the one case there is the advantage of having the genuine signature for a copy. He admitted that there is a tendency for personal peculiarities to crop out when a man attempts to fabricate a letter purporting to come from another man, but he would not say that the absence of these peculiarities was a corroboration of genuineness. As to the absence of punctuation marks, one of the first things a man would do in starting out to imitate another man's handwriting would be to avoid them if the other man did not use them. It is quite a common thing for a man to acquire a style of writing other than his own.

"I know several people who have acquired mine," said Reichman, and again the jury smiled.

The witness pointed to a characteristic in Wootton's "r" which is not found in the letters or draft alleged to have forged by Sanders. Wootton invariably made a little curve at the bottom of his "r" which is wanting in the disputed documents.

Mr. Short asked the witness if he thought the "William Wootton" he had written on the blackboard resembled anything the missing rancher ever wrote in his life. The witness replied that it might not; that he does not profess to write on the blackboard, and had merely written the words to illustrate the peculiarities of Wootton's handwriting that do not appear in the alleged forged draft.

Continuing, in reply to Mr. Short, the witness said he did not see any one write the alleged forged documents. He simply gave it as his opinion that they are not genuine. It would be impossible to make him believe that they are genuine. Wootton's handwriting varied at times. He did not write so well standing up at a bank desk as sitting down in a hotel. There would also be a difference in the letters written with a pen and with an indelible pencil. The latter was apt to slip and slide.

Mr. Short took one of the Wootton letters and tried hard to get the witness to admit doubts. The scrutiny this time lasted a full quarter of an hour, and the witness used three or four lenses, holding the letter in every conceivable position. At last he folded it up and handed it to Mr. Short, saying; "It's like all the rest, an imitation; a very clever imitation, but still only an imitation."

Reichman, by consent, took a glass of ice water from the court's pitcher and nodded slightly to Judge Webb, as if to say, "Well, here's looking at you." The Judge appreciated the compliment, and the cashier was let off with a smile. He sat down with a sigh, as if thinking how nicely another kind of smile, "with a little on the side," would have gone down just then.

Mr. Short asked witness if it was not a fact that when he examined the letters in the presence of Mr. McKenzie he said they were genuine.

Reichman said that was not so. He might have said, "Well, perhaps they are genuine," but his recollection of the conversation was that he said, "I don't think they are. I have not made up my mind. I have not had enough genuine matter to make up my mind. The published reports in the Examiner and the other papers did not influence me, not in the least." He identified the letter to Wiseman as genuine. It was dated Squaw Valley, 2-1-1890.

Mr. Short propounded a hypothetical question to the witness. If in a large number of Wootton letters, known to be genuine, the strokes of the W's were disconnected, and a signature were presented with the strokes connected, would witness take that as grounds for pronouncing the signature to be a forgery? The witness said that he would.

Mr Short—And if the writing on the draft were slow and careful that would be in your mind a proof that it was a forgery?

The witness—Yes, sir.

The witness said his opinion that the signature on the deed was traced was because it was more like the original signature of Wootton than any others that are in doubt. The absence of pencil marks would not affect his opinion. It looked like a tracing.

Once more the cashier was called on for blackboard demonstrations. It was not a labor of love evidently. Mr. Reichman shook out the reels in his vest, and "spread-eagled" across the board. He lost about five pounds weight in the next five minutes and the jury enjoyed the fun like children at a primary school when the teacher's back is turned. When Reichman had finished two signatures and exclaimed "that's the best I can do," he was about to sink exhausted into his chair. Mr. Short exclaimed "just one more," and the unfortunate cashier was set to work again. As a tableau vivant of "Smiling Despair," Mr. Reichman would have carried off the prize before any jury at that moment.

The signatures were really very fairly counterfeited and furnished a startling object lesson in a crime for which many a man was hanged in the days when George the Third was king.

Mr. Reichman said in answer to Mr. Short that he did not pretend to technical training as an artist, electrotyper or otherwise. There were three imitations on the blackboard: The first of a Wootton check on the Bank of Visalia, October 5, 1891; the second the signature of the alleged forged draft; the third a check of Wootton dated April 13, 1892. Two of them were reproductions of genuine signatures, one of an alleged counterfeit (the draft). To the eyes of most persons all these were alike, but a critical examination revealed every one of the distinctions on which both McKenzie and the witness had insisted.

The cross-examination here closed and Mr. Snow took the witness for re-examination. The general appearance of the doubtful letters alleged to be written by Wootton, and even the slant of the characters, impressed him with the idea that they were not genuine.

THE LOCAL SITUATION

Supplies Are Getting Very Low.

A LETTER FROM MANAGER TOWNE

A Mass Meeting to Be Held To-night—The Locals Still Running

Yesterday was an uneventful one in Fresno so far as the strike was concerned. The men were as peaceful as ever, and Superintendent Frazier sent out the 12.45 local on time. No attempt is being made to send freight as it could not be got beyond Lathrop.

Mr. Frazier stated yesterday that there was no change on his division and that Bakersfield, the only point of trouble in the valley, was quiet. Locals would run as usual, except unforeseen circumstances arose, but connection with San Francisco was extremely problematical. The men are orderly and Mr. Frazier expected no trouble. The Porterville train is still running.

The Lathrop local arrived in Fresno last night with a small load of passengers, as it made no connection with San Francisco. It brought in three small pouches of mail from the way stations beside the metropolitan papers of the day before. The express matter consisted of a consignment of ice, about half a ton, and a small lot of groceries. The ice was consigned to local ice cream dealers. The express charges on one lot of 300 pounds was something over $17.

The first through mail for San Francisco since the general tie-up left this morning at 4 o'clock on the bicycle message route, which has been established by a local bicycle agency. They contemplate making the run by way of San Jose in sixteen hours and it will include six relays. The charge for letters is 25 cents each, and the mail bag seemed well filled. The boys left early last night to take their several stations along the line.

A special mail carrier has been put in by the postmaster at Bakersfield to run between that place and Fresno. The carrier arrived in the city last evening and left on the return trip to Bakersfield this morning at 2 o'clock. He makes the trip by team. Postmaster Hedrick yesterday telegraphed to the second assistant postmaster general asking for a special service during the strike between Fresno and Traver.

A little excitement was stirred up among the railroad men yesterday when it was learned that Warner, the fireman who took the train carrying the United States troops south during the early part of the week, had come to town. Several of the railroad men recognized Warner sitting on a bench in the courthouse park. The men approached him and made him the object of some pretty strong talk. The railroaders then left him in order to inform their comrades, but upon their return Warner had wisely gone away. It was supposed that Warner had sought refuge at the jail, but the officers in charge said positively that they knew nothing of his whereabouts.

The report that companies A and B of Stockton had been sent home in disgrace appears to have been without foundation. General Muller yesterday received the following message from Adjutant-General Allen: "Companies A and B are on duty, and doing it well Don't believe report of demoralization." The boys here felt better when they read this message.

Dodgers were distributed yesterday which announced that a meeting of those citizens of Fresno city and county, "who are in sympathy with the cause of labor in its present struggle with the combined forces of capital," are called to meet tonight at 7.30 o'clock at the corner of Mariposa and K streets. On the dodger there is also reprinted an editorial from the Examiner strongly condemnatory of the Southern Pacific railroad. From this it is inferred that the railroad will come in for considerable denunciation at the meeting.

Superintendent Frazier wired to A. N. Towne that the meeting would take place and what its probable object was, and received the following answer from Mr. Towne:

San Francisco, July 6, 1894.

J. L. Frazier:—I do not know how I can better answer your inquiry relative to the inability of the company to handle freight trains than to quote verbatim the answers as widely published which Chairman Knox of the American Railway Union made at a meeting held last night of the Business Men's Protective association, to which he had been invited, at which time he said as follows:

"First—That the strike would not be raised unless the Pullman company consented to return to the wages paid to employes as existing in 1893.

"Third—That they are willing to transport mail and express matter, but that alone; but declining to concede that the passenger and freight service is any part of the mail train, and that passengers and freight cannot be hauled, even though there be no Pullman coaches attached."

Certainly this is unequivocal enough so that all can understand. Therefore, we are absolutely and arbitrarily cut off from moving freight—fruit, live stock, coal, ice, provisions and all necessaries of life.

Since we are not parties to the controversy underlying this issue, we are not in a position to appear in any arbitration of the difficulty and are powerless to adjust it. Therefore, we earnestly hope the citizens of Fresno will not lend their moral support to these misguided people, particularly since your thriving city is perhaps more in need of an outlet for that which it produces than any other city along the lines of great highways extending across the continent, now involved in the general strike.

I feel quite sure that when your people thoroughly understand the facts connected with this trouble, they will do all they can to influence public opinion for the right, and discourage the mob rule that prevails today. You are at liberty to show this telegram to whomsoever you desire, or make such use of it as you deem proper. A. N. TOWNE,
General Manager S.P.R.R. Co.

Supplies are running lower and lower, and the railroad company's ice has given out. Stocks of groceries are also being exhausted.

The price of beer is still 5 cents a glass. Paul Mayer, who promised with the rest to charge 10 cents from yesterday morning on, changed his mind, and while all the other saloons had out a sign, "Beer 10 cents a glass," Mayer put out a big one, giving the price as 5 cents. Of course the other saloon keepers had to come down, and they denounced Mayer vigorously for his bad faith.

Death of Miss Annie Ward.

Word has just arrived from Stockton of the death of Miss Annie Ward, formerly of this city. Miss Ward had been suffering for some time, but was not thought to be dangerously ill. On Saturday she took a turn for the worse, and finally succumbed on Monday evening. Miss Ward had many friends in Fresno, who will be deeply pained to hear of her death. She was an exceedingly amiable young lady. The cause of her death was heart disease.

GOENNHEIMER-WENDT.

A Merry Wedding in German Society.

George Goennheimer and Miss Annie Wendt were married Thursday evening at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Hinrichs, corner of Merced and B streets. The ceremony was performed by Pastor Hoernicke of the German Lutheran church.

After the ceremony an excellent collation was served. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing games and with merry conversation. A very enjoyable time was had. George is an excellent host, and his charming bride assisted in making it pleasant for the guests. Both groom and bride received many useful and costly presents. The former is foreman of the Braverman vineyard, and the happy pair will make their home on the vineyard. The bride is well known in German circles, and has many friends. There were present:

Mr. and Mrs. Ruschhaupt, Mr. and Mrs. Schroder, Mr. and Mrs. Hinrichs, Mrs. Klemburg, Misses Lizzie Wendt, Minnie, Kate and Emma Klemburg, Sophie and Maggie Hoernicke, Messrs Al Braverman, August Rohling, D. Meyer, Fritz Haesloop, F. Paatsch, Ed Schwarz.

A Badge Causes Trouble.

B. T. Alford and W. H. Spencer had a fight in the Oriental saloon last night. Spencer, who is a guardsman, wore an American Railway Union badge. Alford commented disparagingly on Spencer's action, and Spencer resented it. From words they came to blows, but friends separated the combatants before any damage was done.

WHY NOT ARBITRATE?

A PLAN TO SETTLE LABOR DIFFICULTIES.

Draft of a Bill Providing for a Court of Arbitration.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—Instead of standing around upon the street-corners in groups, obstructing the sidewalks and using language not calculated to inspire either confidence or respect, is it not possible for the unemployed citizens of Fresno to take the initiative in the one important matter which affects the whole country today? Instead of idle talk or useless parade of badges and uniforms, let the people of Fresno get together and adopt something like the following as a suggestion to His Excellency, Grover Cleveland, President of the United States. Let it be telegraphed to the President, in care of the California delegation, and given to the Associated Press at the same time. Such a move would stamp the measure as "the Fresno bill," and would directly benefit the community which had forethought and presence of mind enough to meet a condition with something more tangible than a theory. It would suggest a boon of inestimable benefit to the country, and under stress of a popular demand congress would have to yield to the will of the people.

Supposing that the managing editors of our two daily newspapers, the chairman of the Republican, Democratic and Populist county central committees and the president of the city council, together with the chairman of the board of supervisors, constitute themselves a citizens' committee of seven and call a meeting in the public square for the purpose of giving this matter a start. The proposition should be a bill something after this style:

An act to create a court of arbitration, for the settlement of differences between common carriers and other public corporations and their employes, to prevent strikes and boycotts, and to promote harmony in industrial circles.

The people of the United States of America, represented in the house of representatives, the senate concurring, do enact as follows:

Section 1—A United States court of arbitration is hereby created.

Sec. 2—This court shall be composed of five members—one from the New England, one from the Middle, one from the Southern, one from the Western and one from the Pacific Coast states.

Sec. 3—The full term of office shall be six years, and one member shall retire annually. The President shall appoint all members, and shall remove any or all of them for cause, or upon demand of any state through its legislature.

Sec. 4—The duties of this court are to arbitrate any and all differences arising between common carriers within the limits of the United States and mechanics, laborers or other employes in the service of such common carriers or public corporations. When ever any such difference shall arise, either party to the controversy may appeal directly to the court of arbitration, and the court shall forthwith proceed to investigate all the points at issue and all the circumstances bearing upon and affecting the matters in dispute; and the court shall pass upon and decide all such cases with a view solely to adjust in the most equitable manner the differences existing. Decisions of this court shall be final, and any refusal to accept the same by either party shall be deemed a contempt of court and shall be punished by fine or imprisonment, or both.

Sec. 5—Any attempt on the part of either party to a controversy to corruptly influence any member of this court in a decision shall be punished by imprisonment at hard labor for a period of not less than five years nor more than thirty. Any member of this court who shall accept a bribe shall be punished by imprisonment at hard labor for a period of not less than five years nor more than fifty years.

Sec. 6—The salary of members of this court shall be $6,000 annually, and the government of the United States shall pay actual transportation expenses incurred, monthly, upon vouchers properly certified to by members of the court and the person or persons furnishing the transportation.

Sec. 7—The court shall visit the scene of trouble, and shall have power to summon and compel the attendance of all witnesses, and to require the production of all papers and books, both public and private, which in the opinion of the court are necessary to a just solution of any matter in dispute. Official records shall be kept of all matters brought to the attention of the court.

Sec. 8—This act shall go into effect immediately upon its passage and approval, and the President shall immediately appoint one member of this court for a term of six years, one member for a term of five years, one for four years, one for three years and one for two years; and said members must accept and enter upon the discharge of their duties within ten days after official notification of such appointment. After the expiration of two years the President shall annually appoint one member of this court for a full term of six years, and it shall be his duty to fill any vacancy which may occur by reason of death, resignation or removal.
